

Tuesday 2nd July

- 9h00 Accueil
- 9h30 Intrinsic versus extrinsic perspectives on multiple modal emergence and distribution
Cameron Morin, ENS Paris-Saclay
- 10h00 The status of 'nationality genitives' in Old English: was Hannibal, Penning a Carthaginian king' or 'the king of the Carthaginians'?
Elzbieta Sielanko-Byford, University of Warsaw
- 10h30 Coffee break
- 11h00 Bahuvrīhi compounds in Old English
Caterina Saracco, University of Genoa
- 11h30 What has become of adjectives in SVI constructions?
Mathilde Pinson, Université Sorbonne Nouvelle
- 12h00 Jacob's Well: towards a new edition
Stephen Morrison, Université de Poitiers
- 12h30 Lunch

Wednesday 3rd July

- Accueil*
- Plenary lecture:
Grammaticalization: old and new approaches
Hubert Cuyckens, KU Leuven
- Coffee break*
- Semantic shift in Middle English: Farming and Trade as test cases
Richard Ingham, Louise Sylvester & Megan Tiddeman, University of Westminster
- Nithe and onde, þat is here broþer*: the lexicalisation of a Middle English binominal
Olga Timofeeva, University of Zürich
- The non-metaphorical and metaphorical meanings of Middle English military terms related to 'battle': a corpus study
Weronika Kaźmierczak, University of Warsaw
- Lunch*

14h00	Historical shifts of the English How come...? construction: a corpus-based perspective Jongbok Kim, Kyung-Hee University	Coordination and correlation in the Old Saxon and Old English Genesis: a comparison Thérèse Robin, UPEC
14h30	Gimme some. Tracking -some adjectives in OED3: a study of the diachronic morphosemantic behaviour of the suffix -some . Chris Smith, Université de Caen	Information structure and argument structure interaction in IOS constructions Yana Chankova, SW University, Blagoevgrad
15h00	A corpus-based study of split intransitivity in 15th century English Katarzyna Zdziera, University of Warsaw	Scalic Approaches to Anglic Lexicon Charles-Henri Discry, Université d'Artois
15h30	Coffee break	Coffee break
16h00	Preposition Stranding in Middle English Kristina Smejová-Rusnok, Palacky University, Olomouc	Absentivity and the progressive: a brief history of the He is on hunting/He is fighting constructions Dominique Boulonnais, Université Paris IV
16h30	The paradigmaticization of evidential and raising predicates in English Mario Serrano-Lossada, University of Santiago de Compostella	On the development of relativization from Old English to Late Middle English Concha Castillo-Orihuela, Univerity of Malaga

Thursday 4th July

10h00 Guided tour (in English) of Amiens cathedral